

Industry Employment, which includes self-employment, unpaid family workers, private household workers, farm, and nonfarm employment in Monterey County, is expected to reach 220,100 by 2022, an increase of 16.5 percent over the 10-year projections period. Eleven of 13 nonfarm industry sectors are projected to grow between 2012 and 2022.

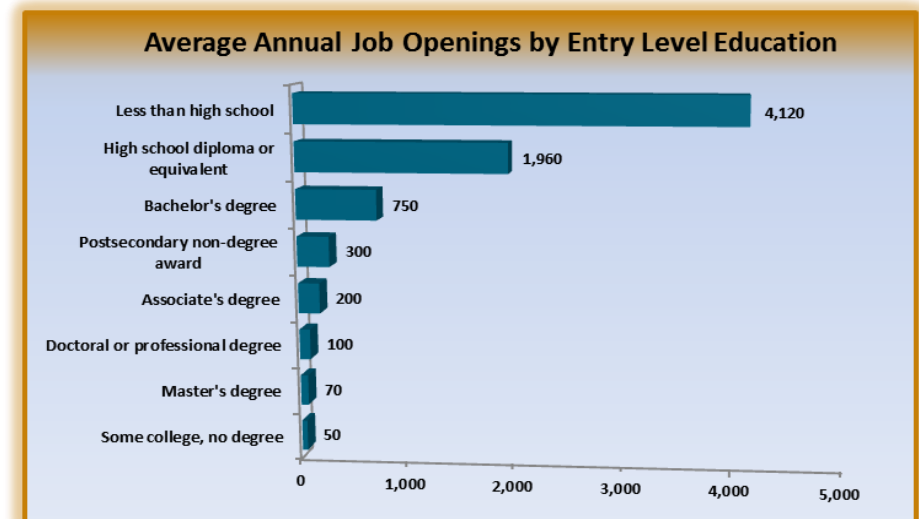

Total nonfarm employment is projected to grow by 20,200 jobs by 2022. Sixty-seven of all projected nonfarm job growth is concentrated in four industry sectors.

- Educational services, health care, and social assistance is projected to add the most jobs, adding 4,800 jobs. Health care and social assistance will be leading the projected growth with 4,300 jobs.
- Professional and business services anticipate job gains of 3,600.
- Leisure and hospitality is projected to grow by 3,200 jobs, with food services and drinking places contributing the majority of growth with 1,700 jobs.
- Retail trade is projected to add 2,000 jobs.

Occupational Employment forecasts nearly 33,600 new jobs from industry growth and approximately 46,800 job openings from replacement needs for a combined total of more than 80,400 job openings.

The 50 occupations with the most job openings are forecasted to generate nearly 5,400 total job openings annually, which is about 67 percent of all job openings. The top three occupations with the most job openings are farmworkers and laborers, crop, nursery, and greenhouse; retail salespersons; and cashiers. These occupations require a high school education or less. Higher-skilled occupations, requiring a doctoral or professional degree, include lawyers; pharmacists; clinical, counseling, and school psychologists; and family and general practitioners.

The 50 fastest growing occupations anticipate an annual growth rate of 2.0 percent or higher. Occupation wages range from farmworkers and laborers, crop, nursery, and greenhouse that require less than high school education and earn a median wage of $9.07 per hour to family and general practitioners that require a doctoral or professional degree and earn a median wage of $86.40 per hour.
